WHAT DEMOCRACY HAS DONE FOR THE LABORING MAN.

First—Before the war they held 400,000 of laborers in slavery, thus degrading the whole mass of laborers in the country.

Second—They refused to pass the homestead law.

Third—They went to war to perpetuate slavery.

Fourth—They held that slavery was the normal condition of the laborer.

Fifth—They enacted that all dues to the government should be paid in coin, that government employees might be paid in superior currency, leaving only depreciated State currency for the laborer.

Sixth—They opposed the creation of a government currency for all the people.

Seventh—Since accession to power, under the false plea of economy, they have refused appropriations of the people's money for needed improvements, thus depressing labor in a time of general distress, while they squandered millions in profitless investigation and payment of rebel claims.

Eighth—They have attempted the reduction of the tariff, that American labor might be reduced to competition with the half paid labor of foreign countries.

Ninth—They have refused encouragement to commerce, through which our surplus productions might find a profitable foreign market.

Tenth—They have embarrassed and retarded the public business by unwise reductions in the clerical force in the departments.

Eleventh—They have attempted the reduction of the army below the actual necessity of the country for the protection of the frontier settlements, and with the view of throwing upon an overburdened market an additional supply of unemployed laborers.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Carson Bee says: If C. E. Laughton is not elected Lieutenant Governor it will not be through lack of energy and earnest work. He has made an active canvass of the State and become identified with the people. Courteous in bearing, polite in address and with an estimable suavity of manner, he makes friends among both parties. A nomination on either ticket is not equivalent to an election, and the candidate who endears himself to the people by pleasant association promotes success regardless of his political complexion. Mr. Laughton's opponent should be up and doing if he expects to win.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

—The Signal Service Bureau predicts fair weather for California.

—The Republicans of the First District of Rhode Island have renominated H. J. Spooner for Congress. The Second District renominated J. Chase.

—An accident on the Alabama & Susquehanna Railroad killed one person and fatally injured two more, and dumped a score of cars into the river.

—Bankers of Chicago are earnest and united in their disapproval of the ruling of Secretary Folger. Gold certificates can only be procured at the Sub-Treasury at New York, which forces upon Western people express charges in both directions on coin.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

The Jeannette Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, October 19.

In the Jeannette Board of Inquiry Lieutenant Danenhower was recalled and asked the following question: "Do you know of anything in the management of the Jeannette which subsequent experience proved prejudicial and which could have been averted?" His reply was: "It is a question of judgment which is called for by the Court, and when I embarked on the expedition it was to abide by the judgment of the commander and I don't wish to oppose my judgment to that of the commander or others unless it is absolutely required of me." The Court was then cleared for consultation. After half an hour the doors were reopened and the witness was asked: "Are there any material facts about the mismanagement of the Jeannette coming within your own knowledge which you have not stated?" Answer—"No sir. The canned goods were generally bad and were destroyed from time to time."

What Dorsey Has to Say.

KANSAS CITY, October 18.

Stephen W. Dorsey, of star route celebrity, is in the city to-day, appearing as a witness before one of the courts here. The Journal will tomorrow publish an interview in which Mr. Dorsey is credited with some violent assertions. He states that the prosecution, in the manner in which it was conducted against him by Attorney-General Brewster, was altogether unwarranted and amounted to persecution. He does not hesitate to charge that it was the work of a conspiracy against him begun by Postmaster-General James and Attorney-General McVagh, and completed by Attorney-General Brewster. He is confident of the entire truth of the data regarding the alleged attempt at bribery, as prepared by Colonel Ingersoll and published on Monday, and asserts that Bowen and Fall are, and have for some weeks been, in close intimacy with Brewster and Cameron.

Liquor Dealers in Convention.

MILWAUKEE, October 18.

The annual convention of the National Liquor Dealers and Manufacturers' Association was held here to-day. Congressman Deuster delivered an address of welcome. He spoke of the prohibition movement as wild and fanatical, aimed at the destruction of hundreds of millions of dollars invested, and throwing thousands of workmen out of employment, and counseled a closer union against it. All the States were represented except three. The name is changed to the Personal Liberty League of the United States. Resolutions were passed to unite to oppose the aggressions of prohibitionists, making it a national issue, and congratulating Ohio on the result of its late election.

The Ironworkers.

CHICAGO, October 19.

It has been reported that the Amalgamated Iron and Steel Association of this district, including Milwaukee, Joliet and Chicago, had agreed upon a higher schedule of wages, when in fact they agreed on a lower scale for the coming year and will submit it to the manufacturers this afternoon.

A Stunning Question.

WASHINGTON, October 19.

The Secretary of War has submitted to the Judge Advocate-General for an opinion the question whether persistent refusal on the part of an officer of the army to pay just debts does not make him liable to trial by court-martial upon the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman.

A Corner in Rubber.

NEW YORK, October 18.

It has been discovered that a corner is being run in rubber, and leading manufacturers of rubber goods met to night to consider the best course to pursue. The general sentiment is favorable to closing the factories.

Numerous Offenses.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., October 18. James H. Corey, proprietor of the Bellevue, who demanded $2,500 from two sick guests to permit them to remain at his establishment, has been indicted. The indictments are for robbery, riot, extortion, assault and battery and maintaining a nuisance.

A Great Railroad Bridge Completed.

BISMARCK, D. T., October 18.

The first train crossed the new Northern Pacific high bridge over the Missouri river at this point to-day, the formal opening occurs on Saturday, when the strength of the bridge will be tested by running eight heavy engines across, coupled together.

A Fight in which All the Parties are Killed.

KNOXVILLE, October 19.

This morning General Joseph A. Mobrey, his son, and Major Thos. O'Connor, all fell in a conflict, with two other parties wounded. It was an old grudge. Yesterday, at the races, General Mobrey threatened O'Connor, but the latter thrust him off, saying it was no place for a fight and that he was unarmed. This morning Mobrey sent O'Connor word that he would kill him on sight. At tea o'clock Mobrey was going down Jay street, opposite the bank of which O'Connor is president. O'Connor stepped to the middle of the street and fired two shots in rapid succession. Both took effect, General Mobrey falling dead. O'Connor turned, seized another gun, and, seeing Mobrey, Jr., coming rapidly toward him with pistol in hand, fired. At the same instant Mobrey fired his pistol and both men fell dead.

CINCINNATI, October 19.

Major O'Connor, killed at Knoxville to-day, was well known as a general business man and was favorably regarded here. He had accumulated $10,000,000 since the war, but was lavish and helpful to deserving persons.

Star Route Gossip—Big Fool Dickson.

WASHINGTON, October 19.

Lawyer Merrick, special counsel of the Government in the star route cases, is busying himself looking up matters in the departments connected with the charge against defendants. Merrick is a Democrat of the deepest dye and has in the past wielded considerable influence among the Bourbons. There are Republicans who say he is not working so industriously for new material for the coming trial, as about all the evidence available was used in the first trial, and therefore they claim that Merrick is abusing his position as counsel to hunt up capital for Democratic campaign orators.

William Dickson, of star route fame, has set for himself a life task. He proposes to sue every paper in the United States that has hinted at what he considers libelous reflections upon him in connection with the star route jury, and has cut clippings from hundreds of papers. It will take a considerable fortune to pay the preliminary fees of these suits if he adheres to his resolution. Dorsey made similar threats long ago, but no suit has yet been brought.

Missouri Sympathy.

ST. LOUIS, October 19.

A meeting was held on change today in memory of Colonel Slayback and resolutions were adopted. At the sale of tickets to the matinee benefit for his family a large sum was raised.

A Black and White War.

OXFORD, Ala., October 19.

The whites are organizing an army and drilling at Anniston to resist a threatened uprising of negroes. The latter are armed and demonstrative. A fire engine at Anniston is fired up for any emergency.

Mexican Cholera—A Horrible Story.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., October 19.

Further Mexican reports say that the cholera is raging in Tabasco, Mexico. Buzzards, it is said, feed on the half-buried bodies of the poor in the Mazatlan cemeteries.

A Negro Democrat.

WASHINGTON, October 18.

Cadet Whitaker publishes a card in a Charleston paper coming squarely out for the Democratic party of the South and urging colored men to no longer be driven by the party lash.

Fanny Parnell's Remains.

BOSTON, October 19.

Fanny Parnell's remains have arrived and will be buried this afternoon, from the house of Mrs. Sudor.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

The crisis has ended. The Egyptian Ministry will allow Broadlove and Napier to defend Arabi, provided witnesses undergo a preliminary examination.

I. FREDRICK STILL IN THE LEAD.

A glance at the stock in the well-filled showcases at this prominent establishment, consisting of watches, chains, rings, ladies' sets, silverware, etc., will soon convince the public that it is unnecessary to think of sending to the city for any article in the jewelry line. My stock is the largest and finest selected ever seen in Reno, and my prices defy competition.

As a watchmaker, the entire satisfaction my work gives speaks for itself. Do not fail to give me a call before going elsewhere.

The Result of Fair Dealing.
S. M. Jamison & Co. opened their dry goods store about one year ago, and in this short time they have secured a patronage second to no other firm in the State. Their stock is always complete and of the very latest styles. The firm adopted the policy of giving their patrons the advantage of low prices, being satisfied with small profits themselves. No better place to buy goods in the city than at Jamison & Co's. A call will convince anyone that Jamison & Co. is a No. 1 firm to deal with.
The White House.
The White House people are still receiving new goods. The last invoice was a large stock of the latest style overcoats. No wholesale house in San Francisco is doing a better business than Abraham Bros. Go and buy an overcoat or stylish suit.
The Weekly "Gazette."
To-day's issue of the Reno WEEKLY GAZETTE is one of the best numbers ever printed. It is full of choice reading matter, and so cheap that none can afford to be without it. Only two dollars a year.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB

A GOOD TURN OUT AND SHORT SPEECHES.

The Aspects of the Campaign in the State and County—The General Good Feeling—The Financial Records of the Parties, Etc.
There was a fine bon-fire in front of the Nevada Theater at 7:30 last evening, and the band played some good Republican music, and as a houseful of ladies and gentlemen gathered to attend the Young Men's Republican Club, President G. W. Conkling called the meeting to order and said he was not going to make a speech at present, but introduced Hon. C. S. Varian, who said: "I shall not make a political speech at this time, as I am announced to speak here by the State Central Committee on next Saturday. Politics have been said to be the science of government, and it is certainly as noble a science as any to which a thoughtful mind could be devoted. While there are those who condemn politics as being something to which trickery and chicanery naturally belong, yet such is only the case when public affairs fall into the hands of men who would be dishonest in any other profession in life. In a great country like this, where no man is disqualified for holding any office and where almost every man, at some time or other in his life, feels an honorable ambition to serve his party in a public way, a great many are subject to disappointment, and we should be prepared for it. There is a great deal of talk about jobbery in politics, and it is generally the case that the men who talk loudest about being martyrs to jobbery are inveterate jobbers themselves, and their cries of distress are part of their job stock."
WASHOE REPUBLICANS
Ought to take advantage of the present state of affairs to bind their party together and prove that they are true men and to be trusted. The convention gave us as good a ticket as could be named by any 47 men in any county, and (present company excepted) the entire ticket deserves support. The State Convention put a ticket in the field that is entitled to the confidence of every Republican. As I am to appear before you again soon, I will bid you good night." Mr. Conkling then introduced R. L. Fenton, who spoke very briefly upon a contrast between the records of the two parties on money matters. Being a poor orator, he was compelled to use manuscript. So what he said can be published more fully than the other speakers' remarks. He said: "There is no better way to judge of the character of a man or a party than by the standard of common honesty in money matters. If a man pays his debts it is a thousand chances to one that he don't whip his wife. If he never cheats he won't tell a lie. If he pays for his groceries and his newspaper on time he will be a good husband, a good neighbor, a good citizen, and, the chances are, a good Republican. If you find a man, on the other hand, whom you have to make honest by law, don't trade horses with him. If he only pays what he has to he will do any mean thing that seems to be to his advantage. He is not a noble work of God or anybody else. He is not an honest man and he won't do. Parties are made up of men, and the same laws apply to them with all the force of God's eternal truth. Two parties are now before this people with a set of candidates for every office from Congressman down, and it is only natural for us to ask for their credentials. The people say we have work to do. The parties say: Here are the men we recommend to do it. It is right and proper for the people to say: Who are you, and how will these men fulfill the trusts we repose in them? If it is true that a calm hangs over the political sea, and no great issues are now at stake, it is equally true that great questions may come up any day. If such should be the case we have no way of judging which party would be the safer except by the past. Even in THESE TIMES OF CALM
We have questions that press for settlement, such as the financial, tariff and railroad questions, and we may be sure that the party which shows the largest capacity for great affairs will handle them best. I am not one who believes that the Democratic party is only anxious to get office in order to destroy us; nor do I believe that our Republican party is perfect; but I do believe that a comparison of its record in any branch will prove it to be the party of honest endeavor and honest striving for the right. To judge the two parties by the rule I mentioned, that of honesty in money matters, I think would be a fair way, and one at which no partisan could complain. If it can be shown that the Democratic party is honest and pays dollar for dollar where it has control of the Government, it will be a good guarantee of character. Let us see what its character is in this respect: I will call your attention to the fact that the United States is the only country that ever in the world's history issued an irredeemable promise to pay and then made it good. Other governments have issued bonds and notes and paid them when due, but none of them ever put out hundreds of millions of promises to pay at some indefinite period and then made them good as gold. Now this was only an act of common honesty, and you will say that any man or party who would oppose our paying our honest debts is dishonest.

WHAT IS THE RECORD

Of the parties on this great question? The greenback was issued without any definite time for redemption. In 1874 a resumption act was voted for in the Senate and the vote stood:
For. Against
Republicans..... 32 1
Democrats..... 0 12
Liberals..... 0 1
In the House, January 7, 1875:
For. Against
Republicans..... 189 25
Democrats..... 0 71
Liberals..... 0 8
A Democrat introduced a bill to repeal the Resumption Act and the vote stood in the House, August 5, 1876:
For. Against
Republicans..... 10 56
Democrats..... 93 27
Liberals..... 3 3
In the House, November 23, 1877:
For. Against
Republicans..... 29 89
Democrats..... 104 28
In the House, February 24, 1879:
For. Against
Republicans..... 4 114
Democrats..... 106 27
They were more willing to pay the rebel claims than our own. A vote in the House on a resolution for an amendment forbidding the payment of all claims made by disloyal persons, June 30, 1873, stood:
For. Against
Confederates..... 1 44
Border Democrats..... 4 12
Northern Democrats..... 88 3
Republicans..... 102 0
On a bill for providing an appropriation for the prompt payment of the arrears of pensions for Union soldiers, February 3, 1879, the vote stood:
For. Against
Confederates..... 3 32
Border Democrats..... 0 38
Northern Democrats..... 29 9
Republicans..... 103 3
THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY
Fought the greenback for years when the country needed it, when we were struggling to raise means to carry on the war, and they declared it unconstitutional and swore it should never be paid. When the war was over and money began to come in so we could pay off our debts, they clamored for more greenbacks and wanted to turn out money by the bushel, when to have done so would have been to invite financial ruin. The history of the Democratic party from 1836 to 1861 is one of the worst records a man could write. It was full of blunders, mismanagement and shiftless expedients. In 1860 the Democratic party had to pay 12 per cent. a year on a loan of $10,000,000. That was after 30 years of Democratic financing. In 1882 the country can borrow hundreds of millions of dollars at 3 1/2 per cent. after 20 years of Republican rule. The figures are simply a gauge of our standard of common honesty. Any number of examples could be given of the same kind. Nearly a dozen Democratic States have repudiated their just debts either in whole or in part, and Louisiana now has taken a case to the Supreme Court of the United States, where a New York man brought suit for his interest. Bishop spoke the other night of the case of Texas. She had a State debt and a school fund which should have been sacred, but she repaid all her school laws in order to get the 4,000,000 of money laid up for the education of her children. To-day Texas has no public schools for half the year. In contrast with the wise, honest and brilliant financial history of the Republican party, it is only necessary to glance back at the blunders, if not crimes, of past Democratic administration, from the days of Jackson down, to be convinced that business men cannot trust the Democratic party.
IT IS RATHER CHERKY
For a party with a record like that of the Democrats to say to taxpayers: Let us collect the taxes and pay them out for you for a while. That party has, no doubt, got some good citizens on its ticket, but the principals are better than their endorsers. They would run better on an independent ticket. It is a poor recommendation for a man to be vouched for by a party that has shown neither financial ability nor ordinary integrity for fifty years. The Republican ticket is not only composed of good men but they have a good endorser. They are in good company and surrounded by good influences. An air of patriotism and candor distinguishes their party and gives high motives and aspirations to its followers. The candidates of a party of strict integrity have additional reasons for a faithful discharge of their duties. It is twice the disgrace to be detected in crime by people of character than it is by those who have sinned themselves. Outside of the usual argument, the county ticket this year has particular claims on the Republicans. If there is any virtue in party organization, then it is the duty of all to try now to sink their selfishness and try to make a better feeling, and make the word Republican mean something in this county.
Hon. W. W. Boardman was introduced, and received with great applause by the audience. "I, too," he said, "like Mr. Varian, am billed to address you later in the campaign, and shall not attempt to give more than a few desultory thoughts that have come into my mind within the last few minutes. It gives me joy to see the harmony that prevails in the party in this county, and to see a united front presented to the opposition. I think anyone may be proud to be a Republican. I have been one always. I commenced voting for Lincoln, and I have been voting the ticket ever since. We have seen our banner carried through the mad havoc of war and come out triumphant. We have seen it perched upon the walls of the capitol in times of peace. We have seen it carry our country forward from bankruptcy, disunion and utter ruin to a prosperity unknown in the history of nations. Now I have been thinking in the last few moments of the value of a good citizen to his party and country. The man who does a good act strengthens the government and helps to build up the country and adds to the happiness and prosperity of all her citizens. The man who does a bad thing is a detriment to the country and helps that much to weaken our institutions. It is plainly the duty of everyone to be right in all things and especially in politics. The man who would corrupt the elective franchise is a dangerous man and will be held in disrepute by everyone. I pity such a man. He is a curse to his country and will bring a curse upon himself and his family. Being announced to speak again soon I will close with these few desultory thoughts which have only come to my mind within a few moments, as I have had no opportunity for preparation.

Mr. Conkling next introduced Mr. Alexander, who was well received, and spoke in a very pleasing and effective manner.
He said the record of the Republican party was a record any party might well feel proud of; the Republican party was the supporter of free government in the revolutionary war and in the war of 1812. It was Republican principles that actuated so many young men to lay down their lives in the defence of freedom. In the great civil strife brothers were opposed to each other. I admire a man who will fight for his principles and for what he deems to be the right. This may seem like waving the bloody shirt, but to review the history of the Republican party I find it difficult to do it justice without referring to what the party did. If we are to honor Washington, I see no reason why we should not honor honest old Abe Lincoln; if we honor Mad Anthony Wayne storming Stony Point, why should we not honor Grant, or Sheridan for his ride into Winchester? If we honor the framers of the constitution, why not honor sturdy Daniel Webster for defending it; if we honor the signers of the constitution, why not point with pride to honest old Abe Lincoln signing the proclamation of emancipation? If there is a native-born American citizen in the house, let him tell me if he does not think the Republican party does not best represent the class to which he belongs. If there is a foreign-born citizen in the house—and there are lots of good foreign-born citizens—let him tell me if he did not come to the United States to better his condition. The Republican party took the reins of government when the national debt was over $90,000,000 and the rate of interest six per cent. and built up a credit which enables us to issue our bonds for an unlimited amount at three and one-half per cent. interest. Our securities now sell at a premium, whereas before the war they were worth but 86 cents on a dollar. The acts of the Republican party are recorded in the pages of history, and we point to them with pride.
The State Convention gave us a good ticket. Enoch Strother, our candidate for Governor and against whom I have not heard a word, has been a resident of the State for over 20 years and is in every way qualified to fill the office. Lower down on the ticket comes a young man whom you all know and whom many of you, like myself, have had on your knee. I refer to Hon. C. C. Powning, our candidate for Congress. All past party differences have been buried and Washoe will roll up a handsome majority for him. Mr. Alexander referred to Charles S. Preble, the Republican candidate for Surveyor-General, in a very complimentary manner and said the rest of the ticket was composed of good men, to whom he would refer next Saturday evening. Of the county ticket he said: We have at the head of the county ticket a man who has served the county in various positions, from District Attorney to State Senator, and whose acts have always been on the side of justice; a man who has always defended the rights of this people in every office he has ever held. I refer to Hon. W. M. Boardman, our candidate for District Judge. [Applause]. Our Legislative ticket is the best ever placed before this people. At its head stands honest Pete Marker, whom you all know. Varian, Fish and Price are men who will be heard in the halls of our State Legislature, and Washoe's interests will be well cared for by them. Mr. Alexander said there was a young man on the ticket for District Attorney and if he was present he could speak for himself. He thought taking the ticket as a whole it was a good one and should be elected.
Something About Beef.
The San Francisco Post says: We are assured by a large cattle owner in Nevada that it would be bad policy for the San Francisco butchers to corner beef and put the price to an exorbitant figure, as in that case beef would be slaughtered in Nevada and shipped here dressed, and if the worst came to the worst, it would pay to ship beef from Chicago to San Francisco.

M. Bringham and Pete Smith of Beckwith, and Paul Jones of Summit came in on the N. & O. road last night for the first time. They say it beats staying considerably.
Hon. W. H. Davenport, the Republican nominee for Attorney-General, came in from the East last evening. He will make a thorough canvass of this part of the State. He will have a large majority in the Great East.
Sam Hill left for Wadsworth this morning. He says he will see that the Republicans over there do the right thing on election day. Hill was a strong Democrat, but has repented, reformed and been born again, politically.
Frank Wright, late salesman and book-keeper for John Sunderland, owing to the death of his father-in-law, has been called permanently to locate at Napa City, Cal., where he will go into business. He shook hands with many of his old Reno friends last evening and departed for his future home.
Captain Matt Canavan.
The latest information from Commissioner Canavan's bedside is encouraging. He had no relapse yesterday, but is steadily improving. The Enterprise says Matt Canavan cannot reckon the number of his friends in Storey county and elsewhere whose sympathies have gone out to him during his critical illness. His genial nature, combined with his many sterling qualities of head and heart, is the touchstone of his character as a man. As true as steel to his friends, his political opponents regard him with respect and admiration.
Well Known.
The wonderful medicinal virtues of Mystic Balm are now well known. It is the favorite article with all who have ever used it, and the number is legion, who desire a smooth, white complexion, and to prevent roughness or chapping of the skin. The manufacturer of mystic balm, Mr. R. E. Queen, knowing well its merits, is willing to return the money to anyone wishing to try it who is not entirely satisfied with the results. See his ad. in another column.
Wood Scarce in Modoc.
From the present outlook there is going to be a scarcity of fuel in Alturas this winter, says the Independent. The white men seem to have all quit the business of chopping and hauling wood, and the few Indians in the business have more contracts on their hands than they can fill. It looks as if a few industrious men ought to make a good living by engaging in this business.
The Arcade Hotel.
C. Lemery has leased the Arcade Hotel and is fixing up ready for business. He will take possession immediately and will, undoubtedly, do a good business. Mr. Lemery is well known and popular and will make the Arcade second to no hotel in the State.
Died from its Effects.
E. Holcombe, the man who took corrosive sublimate at the Asylum a day or two ago, mistaking it for a gargle of vinegar, died at that institution this morning. He leaves a wife. Mr. Holcombe had been in very poor health for several years past.
Goose Lake Losers.
A farmer from Goose Lake informs a GAZETTE reporter that the storm of last week did great damage to the unthreshed grain in that section. Some of the farmers will get less than half the quantity of grain they calculated on three weeks ago.
Public Speaking.
H. H. Beck speaks to-night at the Nevada Theater. Mr. Beck is a Greenbacker, and will tell the people what he knows about the subject.
